Czech and Slovak Republics: Jewish Family History
Research Guide

Brief History
From the Middle Ages to the 19th century, the lands that now make up the Czech Republic (Bohemia and Moravia) and the Slovak Republic were provinces of the Hapsburg Empire, later called the Austrian Empire, with its capital in Vienna. In 1867, the Hungarians won greater autonomy under the “Dual Monarchy,” and the territory of Slovakia came under Hungarian administration. The Austro-Hungarian Empire lasted until the end of World War I, when independent Czechoslovakia was formed from Bohemia, Moravia, Slovakia, and parts of Silesia. In 1993, Czechoslovakia peacefully divided into the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic. For detailed historical maps, see

Finding Your Ancestral Town
To make the best use of this guide, you should first follow the general guidelines in our fact sheets on starting your family history research and, if necessary, use our fact sheets on immigration, naturalization, censuses, and vital records to identify your ancestral town. The following sources may help you find the name of your ancestral town and locate it on the map:

Genealogy Institute DB 904 .G387 2004

REF DB 194.5 U5

Genealogy Institute DB 904 .L44
Magyarorszag Helysegnevtemat ket Kotetben, 1877. LDS microfiche #600340-1, microfilm s 599564 (v.1) and 973041 (v.2). Gazetteer provides each town’s Jewish population and synagogue location.

Available at the Genealogy Institute

ShtetlSeeker Database (www.jewishgen.org/ShtetlSeeker/). Allows you to search for towns using either the exact spelling or the Daitch-Mokotoff Soundex. Soundex searches find similar-sounding names with variant spellings. Links from the database connect each town name to online mapping sites (such as Mapquest.com).

Finding Records

Family History Library (FHL) of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (LDS)

The FHL has microfilmed some vital records for towns formerly in Hungary. To identify the relevant films do a “Place Search” at https://familysearch.org/#form=catalog. Choose Place –names in the Search box, and type the town’s name in the search string.

For a list of microfilms on long-term loan at the Ackman & Ziff Family Genealogy Institute, see www.jgsny.org/microfiche.htm. Additional films are available through our short-term loan program, or at any LDS Family History Center (FHC).

Czech Archives

For a detailed overview of the many records available for Bohemia and Moravia, see the article “Getting Started with Czech-Jewish Genealogy,” on the website of the Austria-Czech Special Interest Group, a group of researchers with roots in the region, at www.jewishgen.org/AustriaCzech/  The main source of vital records, books of Jewish families in particular towns, and other records is the State Central Archives:

Sources at the Center for Jewish History

Below is a partial listing of genealogical and historical sources related to the Czech and Slovak lands at CJH. Many additional family histories, memoirs, historical works, photographs, and sound recordings can be found in the collections of the CJH partners. To locate further resources, consult the various catalogs and reference staff.

In particular, the Leo Baeck Institute (LBI) possesses many memoirs and other archival materials from or about the German-speaking Jewish communities of Bohemia, Moravia, Slovakia, and Silesia. Catalog records for these materials incorporate many finding aids, including box lists, folder lists, and inventories, along with extensive subject headings for names of places, families, and individuals. The Center for Jewish History online catalog is available at http://search.cjh.org.

Archives

Rabbbinical and Historical Manuscripts Collection, 1567-1930. While most of this collection of mixed provenance consists of rabbinic bound and unbound manuscripts, correspondence, responsa, and other items, there are some community records. These include inscriptions from tombstones in Mislic, 1785-1877, and Prague, 1740-1785. There is an inventory in English. YIVO Archives RG 128

Territorial Collection for Czechoslovakia. This collection includes materials on the Theresienstadt ghetto (Terezin), including birth and death records for 1942. There is an inventory in English. The bulk of the collection pertains to the Holocaust period (1938-1945). Noteworthy are materials on the Theresienstadt Ghetto (Geto Terezin) that include birth and death records, daily orders, and announcements about deportation. The collection also includes materials on Jewish communities in Slovakia up to World War II. YIVO Archives Record Group 116—Czechoslovakia
